DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2 and 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Dependent claim 2 recites “a method for manufacturing the electro-optical device...”. The claim limitation states manufacturing and an apparatus at the same time, and hence is not consistent with independent claim 1 from which it depends. Proper correction is needed.

Dependent claim 13 recites an “electronic apparatus comprises the electro-optical device....”. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired.

See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 13 recites the broad recitation “an electronic apparatus” and the claim also recites “electro-optical device” which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1 and 3-12 are allowed.
4. Claims 2 and 13 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Reasons for Allowance

5. Shibata et al. (USPN 7075106) teach disposition on a surface of a moisture permeation-inhibiting layer and/or a gas barrier layer such that the layers are preferably made of an inorganic compound such as silicon nitride, silicon oxide, etc (col. 12, lines 32-39).

Sumitaka et al. (JP 20002-268048) teach a substrate, which is easy to manufacture with a gas barrier property and high performance in a wide band application

Regarding claim 1, the prior art does not teach an electro-optical device, comprising: first electrodes on a base body; a plurality of element areas including element layers having at least one functional layer disposed above the first electrodes; a second electrode formed above the element layers; surrounding sections disposed on the base body so as to cover outer sides of the element layers including the element areas in a nearest proximity of a periphery of the base body; and a gas-barrier layer that covers the second electrode, outer sides of the surrounding sections being covered with the second electrode, and the gas-barrier layer being in contact with the base body.
